Sunday Sermons

7/15 TODAY, 11:00AM - "Student Activism from Greensboro to Parkland"

Fran Shor, Guest Speaker

On February 1, 1960, four college students sat in at a segregated restaurant in Greensboro, NC. This action quickly spread to other places throughout the South and unleashed a decade of student activism. Almost six decades later, high school students in Parkland, Florida, reeling from the murder and maiming of their classmates, galvanized a national movement, led by young students to demand an end to gun violence. This talk will highlight some of the key moments of student activism in the 1960's and compare and contrast it with the student activists organizing around the "March for Our Lives."

7/22 11:00AM – "Summertime"

Rev. Dr. Stephen Butler Murray, Minister

In 1991, the song that dominated the airwaves was "Summertime" by DJ Jazzy Jeff and The Fresh Prince. This was Will Smith's contemporary meditation on "Summer Madness" by Kool & the Gang. Fast forward 27 years, and what does Summertime mean to us now? How might the lyrics of someone bathed in the blasting fire hydrants of Philadelphia mean to a city where water is turned off, where there is no respite from the heat? How do we deal with Summer Madness?
